PLACES OF ENCOUNTER Time, Place, and Connectivity in World History
EDITED BY ARAN MACKINNON AND ELAINE MCCLARNAND MACKINNON

“An ideal text for an increasingly mobile college student body. Yet beyond giving students an appreciation for the diversity of places in human experience, the authors of Places of Encounter impress upon its readers the uniqueness of human experience across time and space.” —Dr. Evan R. Ward, Brigham Young University

A unique alternative to world history anthologies or survey texts, Places of Encounter provides a place-based approach to world history, focusing on specific locations at critical moments when human history was transformed as a result of encounters. Original, contributed essays by leading academics explore places from Hadar to Xi'an, Salvador to New York, and numerous other locations that have produced historical shockwaves throughout history. Each chapter includes:

- A personal prologue discussing the author's connection to the chapter location and how historians interact with history
- A chapter narrative examining how the event unfolded
- A global connections section that situates each location in the larger world context
- Primary sources, entitled “Encounters as Told,” providing first-hand accounts of some historical players of the era, with questions for discussion
