

NEW FROM WESTVIEW PRESS!

"Uniquely blends traditional philosophical argumentation with provocative fictive narratives that promise to engage students more fully, thus bringing philosophy alive in ways more traditional texts can only approximate." —Richard E. Hart, Bloomfield College

This new book features a unique, engaging approach to introduce students to philosophy. It combines readings and exercises with fictive narratives starring traditional figures in the history of the field (Plato, Aristotle, Descartes, Kant) while adding selections from Buddha, Hannah Arendt, Iris Murdoch, and Martin Luther King, Jr. Key features include:

- Compelling short stories from two writers who have prominently combined philosophy and fiction in their work.
- Selected primary readings that complement the fictive narratives.
- Probing study questions and writing assignments that help students understand the material and guide them in forming their own arguments through direct, deductive presentations or creative narratives.
